

Short C.V. in English*Dr Marilena Katsogiannou

Dr Marilena Katsogiannou is Lecturer at European University Cyprus (School of Law) in the scientific domain of Substantive Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure and Criminal Policy. She was awarded the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Law (PhD) from National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (N.K.U.A.) with honours. She has also been awarded the HAPSc first Award (Greece) for her thesis. Furthermore, she has obtained two Master degrees: the first one in Substantive Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure and the second one in Criminology and Criminal Policy (both with honours). She has a significant experience as an attorney at law before the Supreme Court and she has also cooperated with large law firms specializing in criminal law. Moreover, she has published many articles in legal journals and scientific collaborative books. She has also significant teaching experience in substantive criminal law, criminal procedure, criminology and criminal policy. She has taught, as an Assistant Professor, at Hellenic Police Academy (Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure) and as Collaborating Academic Staff, at the School of Law of National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (sector of Criminal Law and Criminology) and at the Hellenic Open University (expertise: Financial Crime, Corruption Crimes, Organized Crime). She has also significant research experience, e.g. she conducted the first survey on the prevalence and nature of “stalking” in Greece, she coordinated and participated as a researcher in the first survey on the application of the European Convention on Human Rights (ECHR) by the Greek Criminal Jurisprudence, she is also researcher at HAPSc, HIUNA etc. (see also extended Greek C.V.). Her research interests cover a wide range of issues that fall inter alia within the scope of domestic, European and International Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, Forensic Psychiatry, Neurocriminology, Medical Criminal Law, Criminal Policy, Criminology, new and emerging forms of crime.